21st Century Environment

21st Century Literacy

“Computer games, email, the Internet, cell phones and instant messaging are integral parts of their lives. It is now clear that as a result of this ubiquitous environment and the sheer volume of their interaction with it, today’s students think and process information fundamentally differently from their predecessors.”

Marc Prensky

Digital Natives, Digital Immigrants, 2001

21st Century Literacy

"The illiterate of the 21st Century are not those that cannot read or write, but those that can not learn, unlearn, and relearn."

Alvin Toffler

Forward, Rethinking the Future, 1999

21st Century Changes

“... the delivery of library and museum services will be impacted by technology, education reform, and societal and economic changes ...”

Dr. Anne-Imelda M. Radice

Director, Institute of Museum and Library Services

The Future of Museums and Libraries: A Discussion Guide, 2010

19th Century Literacy

"Two things seemed pretty apparent to me. One was, that in order to be a pilot a man had got to learn more than any one man ought to be allowed to know; and the other was, that he must learn it all over again in a different way every twenty-four hours."

Mark Twain

Life on the Mississippi, 1883

21st Century Literacy

Two things seem pretty apparent to me. One is, that in order to be a librarian a person has to learn more than any one person should have to know; and the other is, that they must learn it all over again in a different way every month.

21st Century Librarian?

- Is there a role for librarians in the 21st Century?
- What is today's role for librarians?
- How are we different from and similar to yesterday's librarian?
- What role do we fill in the library?
- What skills do we need?
- How do we acquire the necessary skills?
- ??????????

What can YOU do?

Our strengths over large ubiquitous sites like Amazon, Google and Wikipedia are – or should be - our deep human knowledge of:

- people in our community who use us, and those who do not
- the specific information resources needed by our community
- how our community wants to find and discover information

Getting deeply local at our libraries

2009 June 24 – Librarians Matter Blog by Kathryn Greenhill, Australia

<http://librariansmatter.com/blog/2009/06/24/getting-deeply-local-at-our-libraries/>

What can YOU do?

...our deep human knowledge of:

- of locally produced information
- our customers as people to provide many different services to the same individual
- our local community to anticipate needs

What can YOU do?

- Learn, use and teach new technologies
- Stay familiar with emerging technology and business models
- Learn about “frictionless-ness”
- Acquire access to everything

What can YOU do?

- Develop strategic partnerships
- Develop business acumen
- KNOW your customers
- Measure customer satisfaction
- Re-establish your relevance to your customers

What can YOU do?

- Develop business acumen
- Acquire access to everything
- KNOW your customers
- Develop strategic partnerships
- Re-establish your relevance to your customers

What MUST you do?

- Develop library services for a hybrid world
- Develop distinct services for distinct customers
- Develop “push” services
- Develop “your” identity

21st Century Librarian

"The illiterate of the 21st Century are not those that cannot read or write, but those that can not learn, reassess, and relearn."

21st
Century
Library

21st Century Library?

- Is there a role for libraries in the 21st Century?
- What role does it fill in the community?
- What does it look like?
- How is it different from yesterday's library?
- What does it offer?
- Who decides?
- Who / What is its competition?
- ?????

21st Century Library

- Avoid a single ‘correct way’ of doing things.
- Offer online services through e-mail, IM and texting – “push” technology.
- Hold LAN parties in the library to play online.
- Schedule support services on a 24/7/365 basis.
- Look for ways to involve “Digital Natives” in designing library services and providing them.
- Expertise is more important than credentials.
- Introduce play.
- Introduce crowd sourcing.

How to get there?

- Decide to be a 21st Century Library
- Acquire, Use and Teach new technologies
- Get in touch with your customers
- Adapt, Change, Innovate, Grow
